Social media is a digital platform where people can communicate virtually. After 90s it emerged in the world and it is growing gradually. Initially the use of social media was limited. Now it has grasped the whole world. At present teenagers are very much habituated with social media. They are unable to live a single day without it. Everything has its own good and bad aspects. It is also not an exception. It plays the role of a connector. Lonely persons can make so many friends through it.
